Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle. n61f

Benton's Liniment for sale at all drug stores.

If your watch is out of order in any way you can get it repaired at Golden's by skilled workmen from the best institutions in Europe. The work turned out in jewelry repairing is always finished in the best style and the assortment of goods has no equal anywhere in Nevada. j4ff.

Thanksgiving Turkey Shooting.

Jim Wiggins has made preparations to have about 200 fat turkeys on hand in Empire for the annual 200 yard Thanksgiving shoot. On this occasion he has decided to knock the price of single shots down to 25 cents so that the whole community can get in, if they desire Shotgun shooting at chickens 45 yards will be served out at the same rate. No shot larger than No. 6 will be allowed in the shooting, and the chicken must be knocked prostrate. The expert wing shots of this section will have a chance to get in the pigeon shoot on the pool system. Twelve dozen pigeons have been secured and good shots can make a haul easy. In the evening a masquerade ball and supper is on the program, and costumes can be secured at the hall. Plenty of stable room for visitors in vehicles and first class music will be on hand. N12td.

A MAN COMMITS MURDER,

And Then Gives himself Up.

SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED AND INJURED AT A FUNERAL.

Telegraphic News From Here and There.

Special to the APPEAL.

Desperate Fight for Liberty.

Madrid, Nov. 16.—The convicts in Farragona prison mutined this morning, overpowered the guards, and prepared with outside assistance, sought to effect a general escape. Troops were hastily summoned and when the convicts refused to return to their cells the soldiers fired on them. They advanced on the troops, however with all sorts of improvised weapons and a desperate hand-to-hand fight ensued. Some of the soldiers fell back, reloaded, and, as opportunity offered, fired into the convicts who were finally overcome; not, however, till nine of them were killed and sixteen wounded.

A Jail Delivery.

La Porte, Ind., November 15.—A jail delivery took place here last evening by which seven notorious criminals secured their liberty. They removed several iron bars from a window on the lower story of the county jail, which afforded them an easy escape. Four other prisoners confined on the same floor refused to take advantage of the opportunity. One of the men was seen as he lowered from the window, by a female employed at the jail, who promptly gave the alarm. A large force of police was organized for the pursuit and the surrounding country is being thoroughly searched.

An Oklahoma Tragedy.

Guthrie, O. T., Nov. 16.—Last night a man rode up to the city jail here and asked to be taken into custody, saying that he had killed a man at a ranch south of here. Today it was learned that his name is G. J. Burrand. He had killed S. H. Voss, a cattleman and formerly a member of the United States Cavalry, who he had found with his sister on unexpectedly returning to his home.

A Dastardly Deed.

Soamokin, Pa., November 16.—Mrs. John Cruse died to-day from shock and injuries caused by John Zertio, a boarder, who went into the room where she lay sick Saturday night and choked her until she told him where her money was. She had concealed $140 under her pillow. Zertio took it and fled to the mountains. Officers are in pursuit of the miscreant.

Want to Annex Hawaii.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—The Examiner tomorrow will print interviews with members of Hawaiian Legislature showing favorable report toward annexing Hawaii to the U. S.

Commercial Lunch.

There will be served during the Summer regular commercial lunch at Anderson's lunch counter in Weiland's saloon. It will be a hot lunch with soup, beer, tea, coffee or milk, for 25 cents. It is proposed to make this the best lunch in the city for the money, and will run from 12 to 2 o'clock. July 1

A GUN CLUB DINNER.

The Sportsmen Will Celebrate at the Lodge.

The members of the Capitol Hunting and Fishing Club are making preparations to spread an elaborate banquet at the hunting lodge on Washoe lake, and herald Thanksgiving in with good cheer. A great many new and delicious dishes (not mentioned in cook books) have seen the light at this place and a French chef who could cook all of them would be an indispensable man to the Vanderbilt or Astor families.

Hume Yerington on several occasions has attempted to cook a full meal for 5 men, but he always falls short on the staple foods. His real specialty is salad and asparagus. The first move he makes is to hunt up a box of tomatoes, several heads of lettuce and an onion. If dinner is to be ready at 5 o'clock he commences at 3:30 to make the salad. By 4 it is ready to be served and it is simply elegant. He then turns himself loose to make the dressing. Abe Cohn always comes in about this time from some Indian camp where he purchases his game and wants to take a hand.

"Now look here Hume; good salad dressing must be made without boiling it. The minute you attempt to boil salad dressing, it knocks all the flavor out of it and the baking powder escapes in the steam."

"Who said anything about boiling it. You better go out in the ice house and cool off. You're getting rabid. A man who puts a can of corned beef in the oven without taking the top off can't tell me anything about salad," replies Hume.

"But what is that dipper of boiling water for?" inquires Cohn in an absent minded way.

"Whyshaw that's to warm up some plates with."

"What's the matter with the warming oven?"

"It's full of gun boots and canvas deucey ducks."

"I'll bet $20," retorts Cohn, "that you can't get yours in there."

John Gregory by this time begins to take an interest in things and walks over to the stove. While standing there he calls off the program as follows:

"Steak burning fast; fried potatoes, without grease; bologna sausage and German pancakes in the same pan. Hullo what's this Abe?"

That's tripe spanish with Pate de foi Gras dressing. Al Hofer taught me to make that."

"Is Hofer here now?"

"Why?"

"I want to make him eat it. A man who goes around teaching people to poison his friends ought to be lynched. Just take a look at that and hear the gas explode as it heaps through the scum on top."

Look at the color of it get onto the chunks of tripe as big as your hand.

Suppose some members from Virginia should come down tonight to hunt ducks on the morrow; do you suppose this kind of a re—"

Suddenly the door flies open and Tim Dempsey yells:

"Grab the tripe, Abe, here comes Jim Moore and Allen Kinkadee. It's their first visit to the Lodge, and we'll initiate them with the tripe stew."

Gregory is rushed out of the kitchen and threatened with a nail in the Annie Rooney with Ed Reynolds at the helm if he don't shut up. The stew is put out of sight, and Moore and Kinkadee are welcomed with open arms.

By this time dinner is ready and a crowd of hungry men gather around the festive board. Hume has finished his salad dressing, and the assortment of grub is piled on the table.

"Everybody looks sick, and Gregory calls for a piece of French bread and a can of deviled ham. Moore and Kinkadee are requested to try the stew, and comply through politeness."

John Carroll, the regular cook of the club, is then called into play, and in short order dishes up a meal of roast duck, baked and mashed potatoes, roasted catfish, tenderloin steak, cauliflower, turnips and other delicate viands, fit for a king.

The regular productions of the cooking club and calamity breeders is thrown out into the marsh, and in short order Mr. Carroll's production is cleaned up to a fragment.

Each individual then begins a tirade of abuse on the fellow who wanted to do the cooking his own way, and finally the satisfied crowd settle down to their pipes and cigars to spin yarns and tell how many ducks, geese and other small game they slaughtered during the day.

Every man in the club has had a hand in the cooking, and the only one who is considered valuable to the club is Jesse Bright, the man man who cooks beans.

Clara Morris.

Clara Morris, the greatest emotional actress yet produced by America, will be seen at the Opera House for one night, Friday, Nov. 18. In all that goes to make an actress great, Clara Morris passes the requisites. She is intense in her grief, so realistic her seeming simulation of feeling in the roles she essays. Every fiber of her nature is in unison with her characterization. No one can ever see her in one of her famous portrayals and ever forget the tumult of sympathetic feeling that the portrayal awakens. It is the superb embodiment of realism and so near to nature as to be startling in its truth. Mrs. Morris plays but a brief season each year, and as she intends shortly to retire from the stage, the opportunities of seeing this marvelous actress are likely to be few. Mrs. Morris is now in the best health she ever enjoyed, and is surrounded by a company of genuine ability. Her performance in our city, therefore, should be the theatrical event of the season.

Funeral of Bob Patterson.

The remains of the late Robert Patterson, who died in Virginia City Sunday night, were laid to rest in the Carson Cemetery yesterday. The funeral was a long one, and many flowers were sent from distant friends. The pallbearers were Wm. Dotsford, Wm. Hy Daine, John Wolmering, Chas. Kavanaugh, Robt. Cleator, Rob Logan, Alf Doten and J. B. Conchie.

Rev. John W. Hyslop conducted the services at the house and the grave. Many people from Virginia City escorted the remains to the cemetery.

Bob Patterson had friends all over the State of Nevada and they all share the grief of his widow and children.
